It will develop their ability to manage a career successfully in the global economy.

Our teaching modes and methods of assessment vary between courses to ensure that you gain the most benefit from the interactive course content, faculty members, fellow students, and invited guests. Lectures comprise only a portion of course delivery, with the remaining taken up by discussions, seminars, case analysis, simulation, individual and group projects, and presentations.

SVCE mixes and remixes fun, learning and growing up. The most important part of your life is the years spent discovering who you are and what you want to be. There's no place better than SVCE to spend those precious years.
